Erratum

Erratum: An Author Requested Correction

There is an error in one of the figures in the following article published in Chronobiology International, 29(1): 26-34 (2012):

“Dim Light at Night Increases Immune Function in Nile Grass Rats, a Diurnal Rodent” by Laura K. Fonken, Achikam Haim, and Randy J. Nelson

In figure 1 (a) and (b) the dark bars representing night in the actograph are misplaced. The light/dark cycle is described correctly in the methods and the results related to the figure are correctly interpreted. This was simply an error in the drafting of the figure. A correct version of the figure follows. The authors regret this oversight.
